

Language Identification Organizer

Listen closely and check off each sentence or partial sentence as you hear it.

[] Today, we're going to hear from the Berliners, who have just recently started talking to each other about their family's experience in the Holocaust

[] He was looking for items for the Jewish Museum in Berlin, and he was looking for things that would connect to people in a personal way

[] It is a remarkable story. Gert, Mr. Berliner, how old were you when you left Berlin

[] It was organized for children to get out - get out of Germany

[] These were all children unaccompanied by their own family members

[] I know this is the story that has been shared by so many people

[] I mean, I knew the story - that my father had to leave Germany and that he went to Sweden and that his parents were killed in the death camps

[] I didn't know that my dad had this toy monkey, that he took it with him, that it was personally so meaningful for him

[] Well, what happened was my father gave the monkey to the museum, and that monkey had been on various exhibits there at the museum for years

[] Her mother's name is Agneta Berliner